Chicago, Ill., May 2.—Nervousness regarding an apparent intention to run up the price of May wheat here caused an advance today in new crop futures, though the rise proved small compared with the jump of the current month. The latter option was bid up more than 2 cents a bushel before the selling by commission houses and pit scalpers put a stop to the manipulation.

Slightly unfavorable weather conditions in this country helped turn sentiment against the bears and so did higher cables, due in part to a big decrease in the European visible supply. Boston Wool Market.

Boston, Mass., May 2.—The wool market has again lapsed into quietness, sales for the most part being small lots of secured. Enlargement of the Present Building Suggested. New Sites Are Discussed.

There has been talk around the city hall during the last few days of the need for larger quarters. The work of the painters is making the city building much more presentable, but several officials complain that fresh paint is not a substitute for more elbow room.

It is said that the city fathers have been approached with offers of new city hall sites at attractive prices. taking advantage of the experience the post office department and advertising for offers, it is thought that several very desirable sites might be brought forward at prices much below the market value. It is pointed out that in the Mills street site the gov-ernment will get over $200,000 worth of business property for $60,000. One of the city officials who was dis-cussing the matter this morning, pointed out another plan that would give abundant office room without the need of spending any more money for a site He suggested a two story and basement extension of the present city hall to occupy perhaps 40 feet of the flatiron shaped park where the fountain now stands. This two story and basement addition would give abundant floor space, and if properly designed would make the city hall a much more im-pressive structure. The cost would be about one fourth of the cost of a new Selze Many Arms.

"Ugalde, since his entry into San Pedro," said one of the party, "has seized no less than 600 horses and 500 rifles belonging to the stores and to private individuals, and valued at $70,-000. He has levied tribute on the wealthy men of the place and has already received $15,000 in cash which was collected by a citizens' committee and a larger sum in addition will be forthcoming in a day or two. His men have entered and destroyed the contents of the home of Col. Herrers, have sacked the premises of Rafael Viesca at hacienda San Rafsel and devastated La Granja, the home of Don Mariano Viesca. They opened the doors of the prison liberated murderers and thieves and were then unable to restrain the fury of the mob, which was bent on pillage, until the store of Jesus Soto was entirely depleted of its stock and other damages done. Order has been restored, however, and the citizens have appointed a commission consisting of Messra Adalberto Viesca. Francisco Games and Francisco Rivas to act as an administrative body in the absence of the regularly constituted authority. These men have no connection with the revolution but are rendering good service in the proper and equable distribution of supplies."

Among the correspondence which was burned is believed to be a registered pouch. Passengers saw among the torn correspondence letters addressed to Chihunhua and one postal order for $50 in favor of the Los Angeles postoffice. The train reached Canitas, Zac., on its way north at $110 Thursday morning and the passengers were aroused by the entrance into the Pullman and ordinary couches of 15 armed men, evidently in search of some person whom they hoped to make prisoner. All hand baggage was minutely inspected and everything in the shape of weapons and ammunition was seized. Nothing else was disturbed. One American gave up a .22 caliber revolver.
